China Reds Give People First News

Khrushchev's Hand Seen In Maneuver
By Some Diplomats

By NATE POLOWETZKY

TOKYO (AP)—Mao Tse-tung is stepping down as President of Red China, Peiping confirmed today, but it insisted he is still boss.

After keeping it secret a week, Peiping radio let China's 600 million in on the news. The shift was reported last weekend on Formosa, and Warsaw diplomats got confirmation Tuesday.

Despite Peiping's disclaimer, there was a feeling in Hong Kong, Seoul and Nationalist Formosa that Mao is being downgraded by the Communist apparatus and will eventually be stripped of power.

No Clue To Successor

This opinion is based largely on reports of popular resentment in China over the commune system, which deprives the Chinese of their individuality and puts them to live in communities where their every action is subject to strict orders from above.

Peiping's broadcast today gave no clue on Mao's successor but speculation has centered around Marshal Chu Teh, now vice chairman of the government. Chu, at 72, is seven years older than Mao. They have long been comrades in arms.

Fearful of undermining the Red China regime or even planting the seeds for a possible revolt, the Communist Party Central Committee emphasized that Mao was stepping down voluntarily.

Mao's four-year term as head of government expires in January. But he will remain in the powerful post as chairman of the Communist party. The People's Congress meets in Peiping next month to elect the chief of government.

Foreign diplomats drew varying impressions from Mao's retirement.

U.S. and British foreign officials took the view that Mao remained as powerful as ever. Some diplomats in Communist Poland felt that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev had a hand in the maneuver—or at least welcomed it.

Mao stands as a potential rival to Khrushchev as the high apostle of world communism.

The Chinese Communist party's commune sought to set at rest reports that grumbling over the communes was a factor in Mao's decision.

Will Continue Program

The commune declared the commune program to speed up production will be carried on. The Chinese leaders used caution in their commune to avoid creating even the slightest implication that Mao was forced out because of any errors.

Four Airmen Die In Crash

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—A stricken B-47 jet bomber carrying a crew of four crashed and exploded in Tampa Bay Tuesday night, moments after veering away from a heavily populated residential section.

No survivors were found. One body was recovered.

A witness said it appeared the pilot, Capt. George E. Whitney of Tampa, guided the six-engine craft away from land seconds before the crash.

The plane crashed about 10 minutes after takeoff from MacDill Air Force Base, across the bay at Tampa.

Sneak Smoking In Chicago School Revealed By Probe

CHICAGO (AP)—Sneak smoking, delay in sounding an alarm and combustible materials in a stairwell stood out today among findings in the tragic fire at Our Lady of the Angels School Dec. 1.

Coroner Walter McCarron said the most important finding was a report of sneak smoking in the school just before the fire in which 89 children and 3 nuns perished.

Sgt. Drew Brown of the police arson squad told the coroner's blue ribbon jury Tuesday that:

"We have definitely found there had been smoking in the school near the stairwell where the fire started."

Bogota Store Blaze Deaths Seen Climbing

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—Fire raged through a crowded department store in Bogota Tuesday night, killing 82 persons and injuring 50, according to the official count.

Most of the victims were women. Almost all were suffocated or trampled in the panic which raged through the crowds of Christmas shoppers.

The fire raged for two hours before being brought under control.

Most of the deaths occurred on a stairway which part of the crowd took in the belief they had found a way out. Instead they were trapped on a mezzanine.

A 16-year-old girl was found alive beneath a mass of bodies on the stairway. Her condition was critical.

Seventy-five of the dead had been identified early today. Half of them were employees of the store.

The remainder were mostly women shoppers, some accompanied by children.

The fire was caused by a short circuit in a display of light bulbs.

The store is located in the central part of Bogota, and the crowds of Christmas shoppers packed both inside and out added to the chaos.

The panic was heightened by the crowd's difficulty in getting out of the store, which was quite long but only 23 feet wide.

The fire broke out in the middle of the store. Those in front escaped to the street. Those in the back of the store were cut off by a sheet of flames.

Suspect Seized In D. C. Stabbing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Police today arrested a man in the fatal stabbing of a 50-year-old government clerk.

The suspect once did janitorial work in the apartment house where Miss Edna G. Jewel died of wounds in the throat and chest. Miss Jewel was found last night just inside the door of her rented apartment.

Cold Weather To Ease Grip

BALTIMORE (AP)—Five-day forecast: Little or no precipitation indicated until about Monday, with amounts less than one-quarter of an inch. Temperatures will average a few degrees below normal for the period. Some what colder Thursday, warmer Friday and Saturday, colder Sunday and possibly warmer on Monday. Normal highs are in the mid 40s in the east and the upper 30s in Western Maryland. Lows vary from around 19 in the Western Maryland area to the low 30s in the east.

Mailer Union Rebuffs Move For New Vote

NEW YORK (AP)—Members of the striking Newspaper Mail and Deliverers Union have rejected a federal mediator's proposal to vote again on an old publishers' contract offer.

The strike against nine major New York dailies began when the union members rejected the same offer last Dec. 9.

The membership's rejection of the proposal Tuesday night reversed the union negotiating committee's earlier agreement to re-submit the $7 wage package offer to union members Thursday.

The action dimmed hopes of a settlement soon. Further bargaining sessions have not been arranged. Both sides are expected to meet today to set up further negotiations.

Sam Feldman, union president, said the strike would continue.

Joseph P. Finnegan, national director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, had obtained the agreement for a new vote.

Eisenhower Seeks To End Rift In GOP

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower held a surprise conference with Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH) today in an effort to avoid a disruptive battle over the Senate Republican leadership.

Bridges, chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, told newsmen afterward that both he and Eisenhower hope it will be possible to start the new year as a united party.

A split in Republican Senate ranks has been widening over the candidacy of Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois for GOP floor leader.

Bridges indicated that Eisenhower took the initiative in arranging today's meeting. But the senator added that the President "just listened" and feels it is a problem for the Senate itself to resolve.

There was no immediate indication of the effect the Eisenhower-Bridges conference might have on senators organized to oppose Dirksen.

The Illinois senator's assertion he is definitely a candidate and expects to win stiffened the attitude of senators rebelling against their Republican leadership.

The insurgents' spokesman, Sen. George D. Aiken of Vermont, said in an interview: "We have everything to gain and nothing to lose by making our fight for a forward-looking leadership."

"I think we have a good chance to win. If we are defeated, the party can look forward to further reversals in the 1960 elections."

Dirksen, Senate GOP whip in the last session, told reporters he expects to be elected floor leader at the Republican caucus Jan. 7.

Three Children Perish In Fire

MANSFIELD, Pa. (UPI)—Three children were believed killed in a fire which destroyed a large farmhouse four miles east of here Tuesday night.

The bodies of the children, three four and 11 years old, were not recovered immediately.

Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fralic, were away from home when the blaze broke out shortly after 10 p.m.

West Coast Brush Fire Toll Rising

Hundreds In Battle To Check Blaze In California Sector

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Calif. (AP)—Tragedy and sorrow lie today in the wake of a four-day brush fire that has flared over more than 50,000 acres of Southern California hills and canyons and is still out of control on nearly half its 75-mile perimeter.

While more than 2,000 men fight the stubborn flames, residents pick their way over the blackened earth to the ruins of their homes and summer cabins. Eighteen structures have been destroyed. More than 200 are still in peril.

Beauty Turns To Ashes

In picturesque San Juan Canyon, scenic beauty is turned to rubble and ashes.

The canyon people who have returned share the common sadness of loss.

There is Joe Paseri. He came to the canyon to make his home in 1942. Beside the house was a great oak tree. Joe, 77, spent many a day relaxing beneath its branches.

Driven out by the fire, Joe came back to the ruins of his cabin, the black skeleton of the oak and the charred table beneath it.

"I don't know what to do," he said. "I feel like crying."

He reached into the ashes and picked up half of a figurine. "St. Anthony," he said. "My wife's patron saint."

He sat down beside a blackened metal box, once his refrigerator. He cried.

There is Henry Emborg, who evacuated his home on the sheriff's orders and returned hopefully after the fire had passed. "There was nothing left," he said in shocked disbelief.

John and Romella Lampo trudged through the charred remains of their cabin.

"We had a nice cabin," said Romella. "All of the cabins here in the San Juan cost $8,000 or more to build and furnish. Most of the old people lived in them."

Too Costly To Rebuild "Rebuild? No," said John. "It takes money for that and ours is gone."

"I wonder what the little animals will do for a drink?" Romella asked.

"We had three little foxes — Limpy, Eater and Bobtail — and we used to feed them every day."

"Yes," added John. "Every day at half past four exactly."

High winds and low humidity have made the fire fighters' job a tough one. They don't expect to have even tentative control over the flames before Thursday.

The fire is believed to have been started by a tracer bullet ripping into the dry brush, either from a hunter's rifle or a military plane.

Balloon Flight Seen Successful By London Paper

LONDON (AP)—The London newspaper sponsoring an attempt to cross the Atlantic by balloon said today it is confident the trip is going well.

The Daily Mail said radio experts thought weak radio batteries were the reason no signals had been received from the four British balloonists since Monday.

The balloon Small World last reported Monday from about 620 miles southwest of the Canary Islands, its starting point three days before. Its destination is Barbados, 3,000 miles away in the British West Indies.

Thor Firing Proves Missile Operational

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—One of the vast Pacific lies a symbol of America's growing space age might—the nose cone of the first ballistic missile launched at this West Coast base.

Neither the Air Force nor the Navy will make any attempt to recover the cone, hurled 1,600 miles across the Pacific missile range Tuesday. Yet it deserves a place in some museum of scientific endeavor.

For the cone of the medium range Thor missile, capable of carrying a nuclear warhead, marks America's first firing of a ballistic missile under combat conditions. It shows the Thor is moving from the development stage to the operational.

Another Thor was fired Tuesday night from Cape Canaveral, Fla., giving the United States its first double-barreled rocket shot from both coasts. The weapon appeared to perform perfectly. It was fired as part of the close-out phase of the Air Force IRBM research and development program.

Here at Vandenberg, a regular Air Force crew pushed some buttons and the 50-ton weapon soared some 300 miles up to the fringes of space. The blastoff came only 11 minutes after the 11-man crew raised the Thor upright and began filling it with liquid fuel.

Two-and-a-half minutes after the first sign of fire in its tail, the missile was racing largely at a speed of 9,000 miles an hour. Seconds later the fuel tank section of the missile fell away and was burned up by friction as it re-entered the earth's atmosphere.

The nose cone sped on, reaching its maximum speed of 10,000 miles an hour before plunging back through the atmosphere to its impact area 1,500 miles away.

Maj. Gen. David Wade, commander of the 1st Missile Division, said the shot was a great success.

Elizabeth Joins Hired Help And Dances Cha Cha

LONDON (AP)—Buckingham Palace bounced to the beat until 2 a. m. today and Queen Elizabeth II joined the hired help in the cha cha.

It was the annual party for the palace household staff.

The Queen, Prince Philip, Margaret and Queen Mother Elizabeth danced almost nonstop for 12 hours.

Just before she left at 12:15 a. m., the Queen requested the cha cha. She danced it with her husband while the hired help joined in.

Wrigley Widow Expires After Lengthy Illness

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI)—Mrs. Ada E. Wrigley, widow of chewing gum millionaire William Wrigley Jr., died Tuesday.

Mrs. Wrigley, about 90, had been in a coma for nearly 11 years and was cared for 24 hours a day by private nurses at her mansion here.

Need Cited By Norstad At Sessions

Commander Points To Soviet Threat In Europe Sector

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

PARIS (AP)—NATO's supreme commander in Europe, U.S. Gen. Lauris Norstad, pleaded with the Atlantic Pact countries today to move quickly into missile rearmament.

In a strong presentation to the foreign ministers of the 16-nation alliance, Norstad outlined present strength and future needs in the face of Soviet military swaggering, primarily over Berlin.

Informed sources said Norstad told the secret gathering his military command needs intermediate-range American guided missiles as soon as they can be placed on the European bases from which they could reach the Soviet Union.

Italy Due To Sign

Only Britain has thus far accepted these missiles. The Italians are close to signing a similar agreement. French delay on acceptance is the big stumbling block to getting what Norstad considers an adequate force of missiles in Europe.

Norstad's speech was described as sober and serious. A NATO spokesman, asked if the command and control expressed satisfaction with Allied military progress, replied:

"It would be wrong to conclude that there was any optimism or pessimism. Realism would be a better word."

Before Norstad spoke, many of the delegates displayed little or no sense of urgency toward the strengthening of land forces or equipping them with missiles. For one thing, U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles had told them Tuesday with the statement that "our military advisers are absolutely confident that the Soviet Union will not risk war over Berlin."

Soviet warnings of nuclear war if the West insists on continued access to West Berlin were termed by Dulles "empty threats which ought not frighten anyone."

Norstad also appealed for speedy fulfillment of NATO plans for 30 full-strength, combat-ready divisions in Europe, plus 100 battalions armed with short-range tactical missiles by 1963. So far the NATO force lacks half of the divisions, due chiefly to the lag in West German armament and the

Youth Jailed In Killing Of Mother-To-Be

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A tiny crib stood at the foot of the still bloody bed. Soft white blankets edged in satin were gently folded over its sides in anticipation of a birth.

But the birth will never come. The expectant mother, Mrs. Janice Ora Porter, 24, is dead, victim of a savage assault and a bullet in the brain.

Her body, trussed with twine, gagged and blindfolded, was discovered Tuesday by her father-in-law when he returned to his home near here where she and her husband lived.

Sheriff's deputies following footprints in the snow arrested David S. Smith, 20, who lived just up the road from the brutal slaying scene. They said he admitted the killing. He is being held for investigation of murder.

Smith was quoted as saying he had planned for two or three days to criminally assault Mrs. Porter.

The announcement Tuesday night came in the midst of emergency meetings in Chicago between the union and company. ALPA said the negotiations would continue.

In New York, the company said it would continue to accept reservations despite the strike threat. C. A. Sayen, president of ALPA, said weeklong negotiations had failed to result in satisfactory progress.

Solon Predicts Space Trip By Piloted Plane In Year

NAGS HEAD, N.C. (AP)—This 55th anniversary of powered flight brought a prediction today that the United States "will send a piloted aircraft into the fringes of space within a year."

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) linked the prediction with praise for Orville and Wilbur Wright, who made the first successful flight in a powered aircraft in 1903.

Monroney's speech was prepared for a luncheon marking the anniversary of the event, which took place at Kitty Hawk, near here.

"With the same courage and vision as the Wright brothers," Monroney said, "modern pioneers will strike through the chains that hold man to the earth's atmosphere just as Orville and Wilbur Wright broke the chains which held us to the ground back in 1903."

Tracing the progress of aviation since then, Monroney said: "This year we will put a man into outer space, some 100 miles above the earth, in a man-piloted aircraft. The X15 will be flying before the next Wright Day is observed."

The Air Force's X15 space research plane is expected to start test flights soon.

Italian Tailor Will Not See Ike

Expensive Garments To Be Turned Over To Embassy

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Italian tailor is in town with expensive gifts for President Eisenhower—a vicuna overcoat and a cashmere golfing jacket.

But, after learning how the word said Litrico must be mistaken, Brosio has offered to send along the cashmere golfing jacket to the White House, the embassy said, but the ambassador said nothing about the vicuna coat.

The White House kept a strict silence about Eisenhower's attitude toward the intended gifts.

Associate press secretary Anne Wheaton said Litrico has "no appointment—none whatsoever."

The 30-year-old Litrico, operator of a fashionable shop in Rome, said he knows nothing about the rumor created last summer by the disclosure that a vicuna overcoat was given to former presidential aide Sherman Adams by Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine.

"I'm not a politician," he said. "I'm a tailor. It's not my fault."

that vicuna has suddenly become a bad word. It's a beautiful material — the very best."

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Brazilian President Juscelino Kubitschek have shown no reluctance in accepting their gifts when he visited their countries, Litrico said.

"I would never visit a foreign country without giving a present to the boss. I give it out of my heart," he said.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Frederick C. Othman, Washington columnist for the United Feature

Tuesday.

Doctors reported his condition
Tuesday night as "pretty good."

The 53-year-old veteran newsman was stricken shortly after he had covered the morning session of a House elections subcommittee hearing looking into the defeat of Rep. Coya Knutson (D-Minn.) in the Nov. 4 election.

Doctors said he suffered what they described as a "coronary thrombosis with a myocardial in-farct."

Othman became ill during lunch in the Senate restaurant. He walked from there to the Senate press gallery to rest and then went to his Washington home where he was attended by a physician and later removed to Doctors Hospital.

Othman's column has been a

Two Truck Drivers Died
From Gas, Jury Decides

LANCASTER, Mo. (AP)—A coroner's jury has ruled that carbon monoxide gas caused the deaths of two Arkansas truck drivers in a truck stop bunkhouse here Dec. 7.

The verdict said the source of the gas was not known. State officials have said that the gas
apparently came from a liquefied gas heater.

Tuesday's inquest concerned only the deaths of John Parker, 26,
Little Rock, and William Briner,
22, Malvern, both employees of the
D. W. Hoskins Co. of Malvern.
The jury wasn't asked to consider the death of Louis Lee Warden, 24, Little Rock, who died in the bunkhouse under similar circumstances Dec. 5. Warden also was a driver for the Hoskins company.
The Arkansas state medical examiner has said he too died of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Three Drown
On Tree Hunt
In Carolina

OLIVIA, N.C. (AP)—A preholiday trip to get Christmas trees ended near here Tuesday when three children drowned in an irrigation reservoir and another narrowly escaped death.

The victims were Joyce Faye
Douglas, 11, and her brother,
Wilbur Lonnie Douglas, 8, and Billy Ray Wester, 10. Nine-year-old James Earl Wester struggled ashore to safety.

Officers said the children apparently started across the thick
ice to reach Christmas trees on the other side. The ice broke when they were about 12 feet from the shore.

James Wester, who could swim only slightly, managed to reach shore, dragging the Douglas girl to the bank with him. Leaving her on the bank he ran for help. The girl was dead when rescuers arrived.

Severe Cold
Due To Ease

By The Associated Press

Blustery weather which hit northern Midwest areas headed into the Northeast today but generally there was an easing of the unseasonable cold in the Eastern half of the nation.

Freezing weather again chilled
northern Florida and it was cold in most of the Southeast. But warmer weather was on the way
after more than a week of record
low temperatures and snow for December in many areas.

Warmer air also was expected to spread across broad areas in the Gulf and Atlantic states.

China Reds

The 65-year-old leader of the Chinese Communist revolution has been pictured as the all-knowing guide and counselor who makes no mistakes. Much of the tightly regimented structure of Red China has been built around this picture.

Any clouding of the picture could cause cracks in the Communist control system. This would be especially true if there were any hint the change involved controvery over the new commune system, which is smashing revered family traditions to force people into work camps.

Foreign Minister Chen Yi, in telling the diplomats of the change, admitted the Chinese people would be disturbed by the news. Chen reportedly said the decision would be announced in a way "to banish all fear and apprehension."

Shelter From H-Bomb
Can Be Built For $106

WASHINGTON (AP)—For $106.50 you can build a shelter that might save you from a hydrogen bomb.

This word came Tuesday from the Civil Defense Advisory Board of Montgomery County, a Maryland region which gives thought to such matters because its tree-shaded streets are only a few miles from Washington—an obviously prime target for any sneak attack.

The group told county authorities a dome-shaped underground shelter—linked to a house basement by one tube and to the outdoors by another—could save four out of five persons who had time to seek such shelter in the event of a missile attack.

This kind of shelter, supposedly buildable by most handy-around the-house types, is made chiefly of earth mixed with water and cement. Its most expensive material would be metal and wood braces costing around $31. The top of the hideaway would be three feet underground.

civil defense measure is headed

Damages Heavy In Fire At Westminster

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP)—A freezing temperature that slicked rear of the public laundromat, blaze believed to have started in streets, fire equipment and the firemen estimated damages a hot water heater destroyed a metal roof of the laundromat might total $100,000.

Four families were evacuated safely. Firemen had difficulty getting one woman to desert her chinchillas. The little animals apparently perished.

The fire was believed to have started in a water heater at the laundromat.

The New York Stock Exchange listed 1,522 issues at the end of 1957 and the American Stock Exchange 362.

Middie Bus Franchise In PSC Hands

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The Court of Appeals heard arguments yesterday in a dispute between two bus companies and the Public Service Commission over transportation of Naval Academy midshipmen to Baltimore for football games.

The Baltimore and Annapolis Railroad Co., operators of a bus line between here and Baltimore, claimed the Baltimore Motor Coach Co. had no right to perform such charter service without a PSC franchise.

The Baltimore firm said "it is almost impossible" for charter operators to conduct their business without traversing the routes of other companies holding permits from the PSC.

The PSC asked the high court to dismiss the appeal on grounds the question raised has become "moot and merely academic."

The Baltimore Motor Coach Co. has performed the charter service for the Naval Academy Athletic Assn. for the past three years. Prior to that, the job usually went to the Baltimore Transit Co. B&A buses have never been used exclusively in the operation.

The high court took the arguments under advisement.

The traditional "Flower" speech was given by Arthur B. Gibson. James Hosack was in charge of the ritual work and Leon Hammond, master counselor, presided. The first and second degrees were conducted.

NY Reporter Denied Restaurant Service Files Suit

BALTIMORE (AP)—A New declaratory injunction against the defendants operate a chain of restaurants in Maryland, Del. and elsewhere, the suit said.

Miss Sara Slack, a Negro reporter for the Amsterdam News, published in New York, filed suit yesterday against the Atlantic White Tower System, Inc.

Miss Slack contended her rights under the 14th Amendment were violated when her request for food was refused "solely because of color."

The suit said Miss Slack was on her way back to New York after an assignment in Washington on June 8, 1957 when she stopped at the restaurant on U. S. 40 in East Baltimore.

Asking her petition be considered for all persons similarly situated, Miss Slack requested a

Tall Girls Wear Togs With Much More Flair

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UPI)—Peg Newton, who has built a successful business looking up to people, says the tall girl is lucky in matters of clothes.

Oh sure, the tree-topper has the problem of fit, with waists and skirts of regular-cut fashions never quite long enough. But unless she has an extreme figure problem, the tall girl naturally wears clothes with more flair than her shorter sister, said Miss Newton.

"More things look good on her," she said. She pointed out that most models come in the five-foot, seven-inches and above classification—the heights for which Miss Newton designs.

"Although," she said, "at the rate the younger generations are growing, pretty soon five feet, seven will be just average. Some of my early customers now bring in their daughters; daughter invariably is a couple of inches taller than mother."

Started in 1940
The designer believes hers is the first shop in the world to cater exclusively to the tall set. She established it in 1940, after several years of working on a style magazine.

"What inspired the business? My own five feet and 10 inches, that's what," she laughed. "From the time I was 12, I towered. Fitting the tall girl is more than just adding inches to a skirt. Clothes have to be proportioned to the whole body."

Today, Miss Newton has her own workrooms, does an annual business of $125,000, and outfits customers as tall as six feet, three inches. She has 10,000 women on her mailing list and gets write-in orders from the 49 states, and from wives of diplomatic, military and business personnel in Hong Kong, Formosa, Sweden, Switzerland and Spain.

When she decided to use the giraffe as her trademark, she received an irate letter from one customer. "Take me off your mailing list," she wrote. "I do not like being compared to a long-necked, nit-witted critter."

Height An Asset
The designer-manufacturer said the highest concentration of tall girls in this country is in the northern Midwest, where Scandinavian and Nordic types have settled.

"Today's tall girl uses her height as an asset. She plays it up, instead of trying to look shorter," said Miss Newton. "No more flat hats and flat heels for her."

"Her biggest problem seems to be posture... a tendency to stoop in the shoulders, probably from having to look down on all those people below."

"One of my customers said she whipped the posture problem by following her mother's advice: 'Now, hold your shoulders back, and don't lope.'"

Especially becoming to the tall girl are the blouson (fashion's term for any dress or suit with bloused back), the short, almost boxy jacket, the dress or suit with large collar, and dresses with wide cummerbunds or belts, she said.

"I tell tall girls to choose clothes which are simple and are of good quality," she said. "A little woman can get by with a cheap, fussy dress. A tall one can't. There's just too much of her on display."

GEORGE O. BAILEY

C&A Worker Will Retire December 31

BUCKHAMMON — George O. Bailey, Cumberland and Allegany Gas Company's guardian of its production and supply properties in this area, will end a 35-year gas company career by retiring December 31.

Bailey, 65, has worked in West Virginia gas fields for almost 50 years, the last 35 being with C&A. In 1909, at the age of 16, he started as a laborer for a predecessor company of C&A. After working one year on a temporary job he joined another gas company, remaining with them until 1923 when he rejoined C&A.

Bailey has been foreman of C&A's gas production operations and its pipeline transportation system since 1944. His district of supervision takes in all of the company's West Virginia area and Garrett County in Maryland.

He will be guest of honor at a dinner party January 10 at Evansville, Ind. Over 200 friends, co-workers and their wives are expected to attend the event.

During his career, Bailey has seen the gas industry progress from a pick and shovel era to its present modernization of operations involving motor-driven ditch-diggers, high speed, efficient drilling machines and other time and labor-saving mechanized equipment.

Bailey rejoined C&A in Weston in 1923 as a cleaning-out operator. He worked as a driller and also as a laborer before being made foreman in 1944. In 1955 the company's production headquarters in Weston were transferred to Buckhammon, nearer the center of the utility's gas production areas.

During the 1930's when he worked as a driller and laborer, Bailey took part in the initial phase of sinking original wells deeper in an attempt to obtain more gas. That same plan has been considered for current wells in this area as a means of maintaining future gas production in West Virginia.

A native of Lewis County, Bailey and his wife, Ella Lee, live at 123 South Kanawha Street, Buckhammon. They have four children and six grandchildren.

Three Somerset County Children Perish In Blaze

MEYERSDALE, Pa. (UPI)—Firemen recovered the charred bodies of three children early today from the ashes of a home on a Somerset County chicken farm, near here.

Ronald Ansell, 5; Robert, 3, and Linda, 1½, burned to death Tuesday night when flames raced through the two-story frame house while their father was feeding chickens at a nearby farm building.

James Ansell, the father, said he heard an explosion and ran to the house to find it engulfed in flames. Crawling on his hands and knees, he tried to enter but was driven back by heat, smoke and flames.

The bodies of the youngsters were found huddled together at the foot of a staircase a few feet from the rear door. Firemen believe the boys, who had been watching television downstairs, rushed to an upstairs bedroom to get Linda when the fire broke out.

But the flames closed in before they could reach safety.

Firemen sifted scorched debris for several hours before they located the bodies. The lifeless forms were hardly recognizable. One body was decapitated.

The origin of the fire was not learned immediately. Two propane gas tanks were installed along the side of the house where the boys had been watching television. But the tanks were found intact. However, authorities have not discounted the possibility that a leak in gas lines into the structure set off the blast and flash fire.

A state police fire marshal joined Meyersdale firemen in resuming the investigation today.

Ansell, who suffered burns of the face in trying to enter the blazing home, and his wife were sheltered at the home of a neighbor. The grief-stricken mother had been attending a church meeting when the fire broke out.

The Anells raised about 8,000 chickens on the farm, to which they moved about two and a half years ago. The farm was situated about one mile east of here.

We Must Hold Firm

ALL OF US IN THE free world understand the Communists' propensity for manufacturing critical situations when they think these will suit their purposes. Berlin is merely the latest in a 1958 series that includes the Middle East and Quemoy-Matsu. We know that the Reds' general aim is world conquest and that they believe this goal will be served by probing for soft spots, trying to keep us off balance, and generally creating an atmosphere of tension and turmoil. But within the broad framework thus set, the frequency and timing of Communist thrusts are factors whose meaning we cannot always easily determine. At any given moment in history, the Reds may imagine that we are showing signs of bending and yielding, and thus feel encouraged to press us hard.

FOR THEIR PART, of course, the Communists feel a steady compulsion to push. But often the times they choose reflect internal political tactics in Russia and Red China. It has been contended, though not proved, that in the case of Berlin Premier Khrushchev has acted because he feels a necessity to demonstrate forcefully to Russia's pro-Stalinist faction that he is aggressive toward the West. This may or may not be so. The Reds may think they are selecting crisis spots where inevitably we will appear in a bad light before world opinion. Their propagandized solutions, like that for a free, neutral Berlin, always have a superficial air of great reasonableness about them.

BUT THE TRUTH is that in both the Middle Eastern and Quemoy-Matsu crisis we wound up with broader world support than the Reds imagined we would. And the likelihood is this will also be true of Berlin. In any event, we cannot be casual about Berlin or any other trouble spot simply because we know the crisis fits a standard Soviet of Chinese pattern. We have no choice but to hold firm, and to negotiate only from a firm stance. Any other course would instantly be misread by the Communists as indicating a soft place had really been found and was ripe for the taking. Too much of the free world already has been devoured by this tyranny. We must make it known again and again that the line against encroachment has been drawn.

Lost—One Scapegoat

MOST EVERYBODY in the West is happy as the French get squared away under their new constitution. It's a welcome thing. But there's one rather disquieting aspect of their evident turn toward more stable government. They're depriving the rest of us of an easy scapegoat, a convenient whipping boy. For years we've been jumping on the French. Whenever a cabinet fell, which was often, we deplored France's weakness and instability. Consciously or unconsciously, we may have fixed upon the French a good deal of the blame in those times when the West failed to rise to the Communist challenge. From here on, with a strong Charles de Gaulle the likely president under a constitution that creates a legally strong president, we're probably going to have to look elsewhere for somebody to bat around. We may even have to spend a little more time in critical examination of our own performance, both at home and abroad. For the French no longer are champions of the dilly-dilly.

Farm Electronics

FARMERS in Sherman county, Texas, are giving an electronic brain a chance to guide their operations. Their experience may provide new impetus for the trend away from old farming methods. One Texas farmer, for example, is going into the hog raising business because a computer said he could make more than way than growing grain sorghums. The computer digested statistics on the farm's size, capital available, labor costs, the climate, and so forth. Farming has come a long way since the tractor replaced the horse and milking machines took over for the hired man. Who can say it isn't now ready for electronic brains and other advanced gadgets? Farming is an uncertain business, and if some of the risk can be removed with such devices, there will be cause for rejoicing. But the farm is going to seem mighty strange to anyone who ever harnessed a team or pitched bundles into a separator.

Can Ike Spend And Balance Budget Too?

WASHINGTON—How high 'tis up? Or, what's President Eisenhower's idea of big spending? On Nov. 5—at a news conference the day after the Republicans' election disaster—he protested against what he called the big spenders among the Democrats.

He told the newsmen his last two years in the White House would be devoted to economy.

But government spending under his administration has been going up steadily since 1956 and this year is running at a record pace—time high of nearly 80 billion dollars.

And the deficit—the difference between what the government gets in revenue and its expenses—will be about 12 billion dollars, according to official estimates.

ONE OF THE main reasons for the deficit, of course, was the recession, which reduced individual and corporate income and thus meant a drop in tax revenues.

But Monday, after a White House conference with Eisenhower on his programs for next year, Republican congressional leaders came away saying that spending next year will be around 80 billion again.

But they said Eisenhower is determined to balance the budget—meaning, to make spending no greater than revenue—if possible, and may do so. It's quite an if, especially with no indication of any move to boost taxes.

But the GOP leaders challenged heavy spenders in Congress to go along with the balance.

THIS REPEATED Republican tactic—of referring to big spenders in Congress while Eisenhower's administration keeps spending at a peacetime high—is beginning to look thin and sound monotonous.

It's just a hope and a guess that Eisenhower can spend 80 billion and balance the budget too.

If the economy continues its upward movement next year, the government should get more revenue than this year. But, even so, will it be enough to match the outgo?

TWELVE DAYS ago the No. 1 tax man in Congress—Rep. Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark.), chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, where all tax changes start—said he expected government revenue next year to be around 78 billion dollars.

That would mean two billion less in revenue—and therefore a continuing deficit—below the 80 million in spending Republicans said Eisenhower is thinking of for next year.

SEN. BRIDGES of New Hampshire, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, said after Monday's meeting with the President:

"I think the Eisenhower administration will submit a balanced budget."

He added that if a balance is upset or a deficit increased, it will be on the "shoulders of the wild spenders in Congress, and there are plenty of them."

AT THIS POINT we're being treated pretty much to political talk. The real meat-and-potato financial talk begins in January when Eisenhower submits his programs and budget to Congress, where figures will have to speak for themselves.

When those figures are turned loose, some of the Democrats may scream Eisenhower is the big spender. At least, that's the way it was early this year after his budget reached the Capitol.

Sen. Harry Byrd, an outspoken economy advocate, protested at the time: "I call the new fiscal program for the coming year reckless."

Ike Says He's Still In Middle Of Road

WASHINGTON (NEA)—President Eisenhower, by his own definition, is still a "middle-of-the-road" whose views have "never had one single change" in nearly 10 years.

He made this rather astounding statement to his last press conference in recalling his speech to the American Bar Association in St. Louis, Sept. 5, 1949. He was then president of Columbia University.

Rereading that speech today does not reveal it as charting a very clear or definite course. He titled it "The Middle Way for America." He declared that "progress is down the center." He said, "To be neutral is not to be wishy-washy."

He rejected the welfare state and a strong central government. He said local governments should provide needed public services. He denied that "Only the government can bring happiness."

MOST OF THE speech dealt with labor-management relations. He said it was not true that what was good for management was bad for labor. Their interests were the same. They should work out voluntary solutions to industrial disputes. They should stay out of the ditches of class warfare.

"I believe that kind of philosophy has always guided me," the President told his last press conference when a reporter asked him about recent press comments that he has taken a sudden turn in a more conservative direction. "I am not aware of any change whatsoever," the President said. But he added that in Washington—where compromise is the order of the day—he has had to accept a number of things not in accord with his own convictions.

Now this is an interesting self-appraisal, coming at this time. It gives a tip-off, perhaps, on the messages the President will send to Congress in January.

BUFFETED by criticism from both left and right, the President will apparently try to steer between them.

From the Democratic Advisory Committee, he has just been handed a program far more liberal than anything he is likely to propose himself. The Democrats present this as the result of their "mandate" from the November election. It would cost a minimum 2.5 billion dollars a year more.

It would include a foreign development loan fund increase of a billion dollars, a community facilities bill to cost another billion and a depressed areas bill to cost half a billion. President Eisenhower rejected the last two this year.

This action, and some of his subsequent declarations on the need for greater government economy have led some observers to contend that the President has turned his back on the policies of modern Republicanism which he advocated after his 1956 renomination and election.

BUT FROM the extreme right wing of his own party, the President is still being criticized as too much of a New Dealer. Part of this is a hangover from last November's election, too.

Die-hard GOP reactionaries—who may have stayed away from the polls in droves—blame the too-liberal policies of the administration for this year's poor Republican showing.

They insist that GOP candidates would have done better if the party had stuck to its 1952 promises of economy, retrenchment and reform—backward? They point to the victory of Sen. Barry Goldwater in Arizona for proof of this contention.

This disregards completely the defeat of the equally conservative Senator William F. Knowland's bid for California's governorship, which would seem to dictate the need for a future Republican policy course somewhat away from the extreme right.

This could be the course President Eisenhower now proposes in reviving his old "middle way."

TAX PROPOSAL—Higher income taxes on private banking partnerships and lower rates on small businesses are proposed before the House Ways and Means Committee as a means of preventing huge tax savings by big financiers.

PRICE FIXING—The administration announces the reason for recent large purchases of gold abroad is an attempt to force the world price up to a point nearer the figure fixed by the Treasury. Experts say the plan is doomed to failure and predict plans for a new move are being formulated.

STILL DESTROYED—Federal agents destroy an illicit still operation in the Oldtown area. The still is the famed "Black Mule Distillery" that became well known during "The Drought." Its product was bottled with faked labels of noted brands and phony seals and corks.

ACTION BY COUNCIL—The Mayor and Council call a special meeting to probe complaints of duplication of jobs and relief by Civil Works and Public Works agencies in conjunction with welfare aid.

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK—The one human being never likely to be seen toying with a bull hoop: Alfred Hitchcock, film director. This portly macabrist probably would get stuck in one. Or Jackie Gleason would, although Jackson is down a few hundred pounds to a nice 397.

There's an advertising man walking ahead of me. It's obvious. He has on a white shirt with button-down collar, gray cashmere suit, elegantly knotted knit tie and Italian shoes. He is only strolling, not thinking. You can tell the way his face works that he hasn't a thing on his mind.

What's the French word for a stroller? Flan...flan...flan-aur, that's it. The Man in the Gray Flaneur Suit. They have another usable word: suivan, a follower. Any time you see a sharp gent walking behind a girl and keeping a beagle eye on her he is a suivan. He never flirts, pinches, mutters or tries to introduce himself. He just follows at two paces.

MY BRIDE and I had dinner at Liborio, our favorite Cuban retreat, the other night and she was torn between Ropa Vieja, literally, old clothes, but actually finely shredded beef, and roast young goat in wine. I suggested baby squid in their own ink over just barely colored and cinnamon rice, and she cried out as though harpooned.

"If you think I'm going to a Kazan opening on Broadway with black teeth you are insane," she exclaimed. "Let the squid swim in their own ink. I don't want any part of it."

But I had them and a waiter from Oriente Province, but no Castrolite, supplied a way out of the dyed teeth bit.

"Rub freshly cut lemon peel over your teeth," he said. "They will glisten and all trace of the tinta will be gone."

He was right, but you feel awfully silly sitting in a restaurant massaging your teeth with slices of lemon peel.

ANOTHER good dish: yellow rice with a finely chopped mixture of crab, shrimp and lobster, all tumbled up together with minced onion and caviar on the side. You take a forkful of the rice and fishfood, then sprinkle onion and caviar on top. But nothing is as good in Cuban cooking as young goat in wine. And for a side dish: baked bananas.

When you order this the waiter will ask, "verde o madura?" Verde means lightly baked green bananas with a trace of the bitterness left in. Madura means baked through, crisp and brown

Fred Looks Backwards

WASHINGTON—In this season of year-end reviews on high finance, books, sports, and politics (because the authors have nothing much else to write about), I find myself joining the trend.

Enthusiastically, I mean here's my own review of 1958 in Washington: The Smithsonian Institution got ready to put the Hope diamond on display behind shatterproof glass; the National Archives rigged up a Rubie Goldberg device to send the U. S. Constitution skidding into a deep cellar automatically at first sign of an atom bomb. Ike's golf score got no better.

ALLEN DULLES began building headquarters in Fairfax County, Va., for his super-secret Central Intelligence Agency, with room enough for 10,000 sleuths and all their cloaks and daggers, too. The management insisted there wouldn't be that many; file cabinets will take up much of the space. Even so a real estate boom started in suburban McLean, Va., where I still own my beaten-up acres.

Dulles' brother, John, did some building himself, with masonry tripling the size of the State Department headquarters in Foggy Bottom.

SOPHIA LOREN made a movie on the green lawn of a mansion facing the Potomac. This turned her feet green (it was a bathing suit scene) from the paint the experts sprayed on the yellowed grass. The Potomac itself gave signs of becoming a beautiful river again instead of an open sewer; the first improvements in the sewage disposal plants now are being installed.

outside and inside soft and sweet. Then you finish with a tiny cup of coffee so black, hot and bitter it could be used to tar roofs. The cup isn't much larger than a thimble but the potion is explosive. It will make your scalp tingle and your finger-ends discharge sparks. And don't do the Italian thing and add lemon peel to it, because as is and scalding, that little single gulp of coffee is delicious and perfect.

Dessert: chunks of pineapple and coconut, freshly opened, and run together through a meat grinder with fine sieve on it. The resulting wet paste is unbelievably refreshing. Look out for fresh coconuts with the "eyes" pierced to let in two ounces of black, Jamaican rum 25 years old and sipped through a straw thrust into one of the eyes. I'd as soon sip on an atom bomb.

MAN CAME to the house the other night, and he manufactures massage and vibratory machines for relaxing tensions. Said he wanted to leave a gadget which you put in the small of your back between yourself and the back of your car seat while driving. Plug it into the cigarette lighter fixture, he said, and drive 400 miles with it.

So there it is on the sofa where he left it and one of these days when I am going to drive from here to Washington, D. C., which will be in January, I'll try it and give him a report on his gadget back. It isn't 400 miles, but it is 275 miles and that ought to be a fair test as to its therapeutic value.

He claims you come to the end of the trip fresh, relaxed and with no muscle tension. Report to you later on that. In any case, it comes in 6-volt and 12-volt capacities, depending on what kind of system your car has.

ANOTHER MAN came by with a transistor radio the size, exactly, of a package of cigarettes. He got it in Japan and he propped it up on the coffee table and turned it on and it played fine and was about $25 cheaper, he said, than anything available in the United States.

The sound was good, without distortion, but he admitted he had not had it long enough to tell how it would stand up. It looked rugged enough and cute as anything. Retail, he reported, about $19.50, here. Much less in Japan.

He was a neighbor who can't resist gadgets. He even bought a sun-heat cigarette lighter for 98 cents, no fuel, no wick, no nothing but a reflection disc and a thing to hold the cigarette. No light, either, on gray days.

Reporter's Notebook

NEW YORK—In our house we have entered the era of the third cat. Rather fondly I look back now at the time our daughter Tracy had her very first live pet—a period known as the Era of the First Turtle.

It was a tiny inoffensive grave-eyed turtle with a thoughtful mien, and its watery reign in our kitchen was of a remarkably brief duration.

"I want a kitty or a dog," said Tracy. "Or," she added, "a birdie."

Frankly, I wanted to get her a dog, but man's best friend is verboten in the apartment development in which we live. So we entered the Era of the First Cat. I forgot her name but she was a Siamese, and Tracy was very young and tried to hug her to death. To save the cat we had to find her another home.

AFTER A TIME we got another cat, another Siamese. It—and I speak advisedly—was a magnificent animal named Ralph Beauty Marble Candy, and roughly the size of a Sheldahl pony.

The Era of the Second Cat was pretty short. We have no mice in our house, and I got a little tired of watching Ralph Beauty stalk Tracy instead, pounce on her and carry her to the top of the bookcase.

Ralph Beauty, with the help of a retired lion tamer, was coaxed into a cage and granted to an adventurous family in the hinterland. Actually he didn't fit into New York City. He was too big.

Well, months and months had passed, and again Tracy set up the cry, "I want a cat." A friend went to a humane shelter and found an orphan kitty, and now we are in the Era of the Third Cat.

SHE IS BLACK with white paws and white throat and looks like Adolf Hitler, if you can imagine Hitler wearing his mouselache under his mouth instead of under his nose. She has a tiny black dot on the very tip of her nose, and therefore is known as Lady Dolly.

She is batty and independent, fights her image in the hall mirror. Reaches up to try to turn the knob on the television set if she doesn't like the program.

She has eyes like light shining through the slits in yellow buttons, she has clawed up about $1,500 worth of furniture and two neighbor children. My shower is her chosen powder room.

But for some wild, incomprehensible reason everybody in the family knows the Era of the Third Cat is going to go on for a long while.

I have always held that anybody who really likes a cat lacks one brand of common sense. I still feel that way. But Lady Dolly is here to stay. Who needs common sense?

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON—A comfortable-looking matron of 44, with a pleasant face and homey smile, visited President Eisenhower at the White House the other morning and talked a mixture of economics and children. She has more than an academic interest in both, being a mother and a new Congresswoman.

Ike congratulated Rep.-elect Catherine May, of Washington, on her victory, which no one in the Republican Party, least of all herself, had really expected. Mrs. May replied that she was glad she made it, because it enabled her to help combat the thing that agitates housewives most—inflation.

The GOP lady promised the President she would support any program he might offer to hold the line against runaway prices. She told Ike she had shaken hands with him in a mob scene half a dozen years ago and been adored by her son; never to wash her hands again. This switched the conversation from inflation to children.

IKE ASKED IF her youngsters, James, 13, and Melinda, 8, showed any symptoms of being impressed by her new status.

"Well," said Mrs. May, "after the election, I said to them: 'I'm a Congresswoman now and you've got to show me some respect. Every time I come in the house I want you both to drop to your knees and bow your heads to the floor.'"

"A few nights later my husband and I brought a campaign worker, a comparative stranger, home with us. We opened the door, and there were those two pesky children on their knees, salarining, and bumping their heads on the floor. I had a terrible time convincing the constituent that this wasn't standard household regimentation."

Mrs. May asked the President if he impressed his grandchildren.

"Not so you'd notice it," laughed Mr. Eisenhower, "but the two older ones are becoming more dignified. They just used to call me 'Ike,' but they apparently found this startled visitors too much. Now, when outsiders are around, Barbara Anne calls me 'grandfather,' and David calls me 'granddad.'"

Ike sighed, and said it didn't seem any time since Barbara Anne's first tour of the White House. Mamie showed the little girl a bed, and said: "This is where President Lincoln slept." The child refused to believe it, saying: "How can that be? Ike is President."

Mr. Eisenhower asked Mrs. May how her husband, James, a prominent Yakima real estate man, felt about her becoming a Congresswoman.

"Jim put me in politics," said the lady. "He believes in fighting for good government. He said: 'I can't afford a big contribution to the Republican Party, but I'll donate my wife.'"

I AM INCLINED to be restrained in my enthusiasm for new members of Congress, but I make an exception in the case of Mrs. May. She looks, acts and talks like one of the neighbor women—in the finest sense of the term. If she doesn't turn out to be a pillar of commonsense, I am badly fooled.

Before trying for Congress, she prepped for three terms in the Washington State Legislature. Total expenses for her first campaign amounted to $548.37. She was able to raise a pitifully-small amount for her last campaign because no one thought she could win. She was reduced to handbills, while her Democratic opponent, Frank Le Roux, plastered the landscape with billboards.

She turned this weapon against him. Tramping up and down the State she kept trumpeting this challenge at Le Roux: "Come out from behind those billboards!"

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower, proposing an extension of the present high school term: "I really believe we could do well by including what we call junior college, or certainly something near it, so that they (students) can enlarge themselves to the extent of their capability in a good high school system even if they never have the urge, or opportunity to go to college."

Crisfield Man Requests Aid For Step-Mother

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—A Crisfield man has asked the Court of Appeals to reverse a Somerset County Orphans' Court order allowing his step-mother a one-third share in her late husband's estate.

The petition from Hyman Crandall was submitted to the appeals court yesterday.

Mrs. Celia K. Crandall, second wife of Soloon S. Crandall, signed a release of all her claims on the estate shortly after Crandall's death in 1956. Principal beneficiaries of the will were his daughter, Janet, and son, Hyman.

Mrs. Crandall later filed a widow's election to take her one-third share, and asked the Orphans' Court to declare her original release invalid.

Hyman Crandall, executor of the estate, contended the Orphans' Court had no jurisdiction to invalidate the release.

TB Still Remains Health Menace

By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Tuberculosis scientists aren't happy about the public's increasing disrespect for tubercle bacillus. Regardless of the wonderful new drugs that have made it easier to cure tuberculosis, it cannot be forgotten that TB remains a communicable disease which can menace anyone.

The principal anti-TB drugs are streptomycin, isoniazid, and para-aminosalicylic acid or PAS. They slaughter tubercle bacilli by the multitudes, but neither in the first onslaught or in many onslaughts they can kill all the bacilli in a tuberculous lung.

Three to six months of daily drug taking are usually necessary before the patient's sputum contains no bacilli. This means lung destruction has been arrested and the patient can be turned out of the hospital, since he can no longer transmit his disease to others. But he may well contain bacilli still. They are "sleeping" but will awake and multiply. Then lung destruction resumes and he is a TB transmitter again. That happens, of course, only if he stops taking a drug. He must not stop for a minimum of 18 months.

Millions are "positive." Another potential menace to public health is the fact that 35 to 50 million Americans are "positive" to the tuberculin test which means their defensive chemistry once engaged tubercle bacilli successfully. They were attacked but didn't succumb. But bacilli "sleep" in many of them and many awaken and make them both tuberculous and TB-spreaders. Practically all the new cases come from "positive reactors."

Still another danger is that of the estimated 800,000 active and inactive cases of tuberculosis in the United States—one half unknown to public health authorities or private physicians.

TB is conspicuously a waxing and waning disease. An active case is one in which the disease is on the upswing, when it swings downward the case is inactive—until it swings up again.

To have some 400,000 of these unsupervised "unknown" carriers around spreading bacilli displeases public health authorities.

On Way Out
They and tuberculosis scientists don't want to panic anyone, and have no need to. It can be demonstrated mathematically that tuberculosis is on its way out in the United States and Western Europe, and certainly the chances of any healthy person catching it are infinitesimal compared to what they used to be.

But so long as tubercle bacilli exist in any individual, family, community, city or nation public health is endangered in some degree. Despite the relatively low estate of TB today, the federal, state, and local governments, plus private organizations such as the Christmas seal supported tuberculosis societies, are spending approximately 775 million dollars on it annually.

Blaze Kills Youngsters

BALTIMORE (AP)—Three young children were killed and a fourth was overcome by smoke yesterday as fire swept through the first-floor apartment of a West Baltimore rowhouse.

James Henderson, 2, Rodney Henderson, 4, and Cathie Fowlkes, 6, a step-sister, were dead on arrival at Franklin Square Hospital. Dean Henderson, 10 months, was reported in fair condition at the hospital.

Their mother, Mrs. Marjorie Henderson, 20, who was shopping at the time, was treated for shock. She said she was a counter girl in a cafeteria at Goucher College.

Fire Department arson investigators and building inspectors could give no cause of the blaze immediately.

Neighbors tried several times to reach the Negro children but were driven back by dense smoke and flames.

Appeals Court Rejects Aid Claim

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—An Eastern Shore worker is not entitled to compensation for an injury, says the Court of Appeals, because he did not file his claim within a year.

The court issued the opinion yesterday in reversing a Wicomico County Circuit order allowing the claim of Harry D. Young of Princess Anne. He had asked for compensation for a back injury suffered while working as a groundsman for the Eastern Shore Public Service Co. of Salisbury.

"If the injury is not latent or trivial," said the Court of Appeals opinion, "limitations begin to run when the injury occurs."

The lower court had reversed the State Industrial Accident Commission, which had denied Young's claim. The appeal was taken by opinion, "limitations begin to run when the injury occurs."

Board Hears Request For New School

Ridgeley Group Will Get Answer On January 5

A 12-member citizens committee met last night with the Mineral County (W. Va.) Board of Education in Keyser to present a request for the construction of a new elementary school in neighboring Ridgeley.

The committee was organized last Wednesday at a mass meeting in Ridgeley during which the potential fire hazard of the school was pointed out.

The Board of Education was presented the request for the new school and various members of the delegation, headed by Chief of Police Jack Cornett as chairman, spoke concerning the conditions at the school.

No official answer to the request was made by the Board of Education, although members said they were aware of the hazardous conditions at the school and said a new school is under consideration.

Members of the board, headed by S. T. McGee, superintendent of Mineral County schools, asked that they be permitted to study all phases of the request, and said they would make their decision known at a meeting Monday evening, January 5.

The Ridgeley school was constructed in 1914, with a second floor addition made in 1922. Cornett pointed out. Fire safety conditions are deplorable, he explained, citing reports of the state fire marshal's office which state fire corridors and stairways are too narrow, fire escape provisions inadequate and an outmoded heating plant that constitutes a grave fire hazard.

READY FOR ACTION — The above scale model of the "Cumberland-Georges Creek Railroad" is in operation at the home of Daniel Mathews, Centre Street, LaVale. Although a permanent installation, it is expected to be an attraction for both adults and children during the Christmas season which always increases railroad interest.

Keller, Flynn Sentenced In Mugging Case

Sentences of one year in the Maryland Reformatory for Males were handed out to two young men yesterday afternoon in Circuit Court by Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris for three "muggings" here November 6.

They are George Robert Keller, 23, of 239 Henderson Avenue, and Robert E. Flynn Jr., 22, of Washington and formerly of this city. They will be taken to the institution today.

On November 26 the accused men entered pleas of guilty to assault and robbery when they were tried in Allegany County Circuit Court on criminal informations filed by the State's Attorney's office.

The two men waived their right to indictment by a grand jury and were tried on the criminal informations. Victims of the "muggings" were Joseph A. McKenzie, 74, of 206 Columbia Street; James G. Zink, 47, of 619 North-Mechanic Street; and Herman Dicken, 59, of 219 Bedford Street.

McKenzie, the most seriously injured, was hospitalized for two weeks and suffered fractures of the facial bones and nose and the sight of his left eye has been impaired. Keller and Flynn pleaded guilty to robbing McKenzie and Dicken and to assault with intent to rob Zink.

The two men were sentenced to one year in the institution on all three informations and the terms are to run concurrently beginning November 7. Keller was committed to the county jail on that date while Flynn was committed on November 11.

Commitment papers signed by Judge Harris included a presentence investigation report from David M. Steele, probation officer, and copies of psychiatric reports of Dr. Richard W. Trevisakis Jr.

The reports indicated the need of psychiatric treatment for both the men. Judge Harris recommended that after the two prisoners are processed at the institution that doctors should determine if they should not be sent to the Patuxent Institution for treatment.

Thomas B. Finan was counsel for Flynn while Edward J. Ryan was attorney for Keller.

Damage Suit Hearing Set

A damage suit for $20,000 brought by a Barton man against a resident of Westernport for injuries suffered when he was struck by a car on Georges Creek Boulevard in December 1957 will be heard in Circuit Court tomorrow.

A jury will hear the case with Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris presiding.

The suit was filed by James Garrison of Barton against Raymond M. Chaney of Westernport. In the declaration drawn up by Edward J. Ryan, attorney for Garrison, it was stated that Garrison was walking along the shoulder of the highway, facing traffic. He was headed towards Westernport.

Chaney was driving toward Barton and another car was headed in the opposite direction. The two cars passed each other about the time they drew abreast of Garrison.

Garrison was hit by the Chaney vehicle and suffered a fractured skull, broken leg and arm and was hospitalized for some time.

The October term of Circuit Court is nearing a close. It is the first time for many years the October term has lasted so long.

County Agents Will Attend State Meet

A meeting of county farm agents and their assistants will be held at Elkton City tomorrow by the Extension Service of the University of Maryland.

Attending from here will be Joseph M. Steger, county farm agent, and his assistant, James Arnold. Garrett County will send James McHenry, Rankin Lusby and Barry Carr of the county farm agents' office.

Model Train Operation Outgrows Basement Space

The "Cumberland-Georges Creek Railroad," an HO gauge affair, won't carry any passengers but it's destined to give a lot of pleasure to its owner and many others.

The CGCR is located in the basement of the Daniel Mathews' home on Center Street, LaVale, and while not complete has been three years in the building. It covers an area better than 18 by 18 feet, has more than 550 feet of track and 900 feet of wiring. The double main line layout, when complete will handle 10 trains or six more than Mathews can operate at the present time.

2 1/2 Degree Grade. In the "Mountain Division" there is a 21-foot upgrade and 18-foot downgrade with the actual grade 2 1/2 degrees. Landscaping is well underway with tree-covered "mountains" forming the background for the locomotives and other equipment.

There is an ice plant with six cars waiting to be loaded; a factory; gantry crane (non-operational); bucket crane (operational); complete sawmill and logging cars; a village; several trestles and bridges; a roundhouse with six stalls and automatic turntable for locomotives; and a hump yard capable of taking 16 cars.

Also included is a nearly completed rock conveyor and Mathews has underway an automatic coal dumper in which cars will run into the hump and the car and its coal load turned over and dumped automatically. The model is based on the real dumpers in operation in Baltimore and in the Great Lakes region.

Adding more authenticity is the model of the "Black Bart Coal Mine."

Equipment includes a Diesel freight with two A and one B units; a passenger Diesel with an A and B unit; a mallet freight; two Pacifics (freight or passenger); one Mikado mostly for fast freight or passenger; one shifter; one dockside (oil burner); and one motorcar-flatcar-tender unit which is the smallest made in HO.

There are 50 freight cars and at least 20 passenger cars ranging from those popular in the 18th century to the present-day, modern astro-dome.

None of this equipment, track or buildings, is of the "ready-made" variety. Mathews has constructed it all from kits or "scratch." And all the materials, he added, have been purchased locally.

In that connection, he does all his repair work and maintains a "library" on the latest developments in HO.

There isn't much room left in the Mathews' basement for expansion but the plans are being changed all the time. Some changes were underway when the CGCR was visited this time and as a result not all the equipment was operational.

Actually, Mathews says, a layout such as the CGCR is more than a one-man operation. It almost takes the time of one person just to keep it in working order. Then, Mathews does little work on the model railroad during the summer months and as a result is just beginning to see his way clear to full-scale operations again.

Another Mugging Reported In City

City Police last night received a report of another "mugging" case in Cumberland.

The victim of the assault and robbery was Mrs. Elva Westfall, 44, of 209 Cecelia Street.

Det. George Furstenberg, who investigated, said Mrs. Westfall informed police that a young man accosted her in front of her home. She stated that the young man stole her pocketbook containing $60 in cash and valuable papers.

The woman reportedly got out of a taxicab in front of her home at 12:10 a. m., and as the taxi drove away she was attacked.

Soil Group To Meet

The Allegany County Soil Supervisors will meet Friday at 1:30 p. m. at the office of Joseph M. Steger, county farm agent, at the Court House.

Police Charge Deaf Mute In Assault Case

Charges of assault with intent to kill and armed robbery have been filed against Jack E. Gerhard, the mute who beat and bound a RD 3 Bedford woman and shot her husband last Thursday.

Pennsylvania State Police at the Bedford substation meanwhile reported that the 27-year-old Gerhard was on probation from the Harrisburg State Hospital at the time he entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Renshaw, four miles south of Bedford, and allegedly committed the offenses with which he is charged.

Police said that Gerhard, who is from Upper Darby in the Philadelphia area, was put on probation after having been an inmate at the Harrisburg Hospital this fall.

The charges were filed with Bedford Justice of the Peace H. Cyril Bingham. The accused will remain confined in the Bedford County Jail pending further action in the case.

Gerhard may face additional charges in Maryland for alleged breaking and entering two homes in that state early last Thursday prior to the Bedford area incident. Police say that his offenses were similar in all these instances and that in addition he attempted to enter another Maryland home but was frightened off.

Methodists To Hold Union Service Sunday

Central Methodist Church will be host to Kingsley and Centre Street Methodist churches at a union service Sunday at 7:30 p. m.

This service is one of a series sponsored by the three churches each Sunday evening during the winter. The services will be held at Central during the remainder of December and January and at Kingsley during February and March.

Temperature Moves Above Freeze Point

Tomorrow Will Be Slightly Colder; Highways Clear

This section experienced today some of its warmest weather in at least 15 days when temperatures climbed above the freezing point.

Oakland had an official low of six degrees above zero early today, but in a few hours it had climbed to 34 degrees.

Cumberland's overnight low was 17 degrees and by noon it was 34 degrees.

The low pressure area moving in from the Great Lakes gave all indications of changing weather.

A forecast for Allegany and Garrett counties calls for variable cloudiness and windy, early tonight. Late tonight it is to clear slowly and become less windy.

The overnight low is to be between 14 and 22 degrees and tomorrow is to be fair and slightly colder in the afternoon. There is to be a high of between 27 and 32 degrees tomorrow.

Fair, Colder Friday

Friday is to be fair and somewhat colder. The northwest winds with a velocity of 10 to 20 miles per hour tonight are to become west to northwest five to 16 miles per hour late tonight and tomorrow.

The five-day forecast for West Virginia calls for the temperatures to average four to eight degrees below normal high-range of 40 and 25 in the northern part of the state. It is to be colder Thursday, Saturday and possibly Monday, and will be warmer Friday and Sunday.

There is to be little or no snow until Sunday or Monday.

The bright sun and higher temperatures helped to baro all roads in this section yesterday and today.

Glass Plant Talks Start

CINCINNATI (AP)—Negotiators set down again here today hoping to agree on differences that have kept 14,000 employees of Pittsburgh Glass Co. on strike since Oct. 6.

The talks were shifted here yesterday after previous efforts failed in Miami, Cleveland and Louisville.

Federal Mediators James Bentley of Cincinnati and H. J. Montoney of Columbus are taking a hand in the sessions for the first time.

Montoney sat in on the talks as an observer earlier. He reported no developments after yesterday's opening conference here, but said meetings would continue.

The chief bottlenecks reportedly are proposals to reclassify workers' duties and shrink the size of work crews.

Eleven Pittsburgh plate plants are involved in the strike.

Police Report Bar Entered On Virginia Ave.

City Police this morning received a report of a breaking and entering at the K-Bar on Virginia Avenue.

Det. James E. Van and Det. Thomas See said the intruder obtained a small amount of cash from two pinball machines and a juke box.

The intruder entered the building by a side window, police said.

Old Furnace Church Will Give Cantata

A Christmas cantata will be presented Sunday at 9 p. m. at the Old Furnace Church of the Brethren.

Opening the program will be a candlelight worship ceremony with Mrs. Donald Funkhouser singing "O Holy Night." Twelve of the young people of the church will take part in the ceremony.

The cantata, "Miracle At The Inn," is being directed by Mrs. Margaret Bohrer and Mrs. Pearl Whitacre. Taking part will be Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Bohrer, Ronald Comb, Jennings Whitacre, Glenwood Emswirth, Chester Rogers, Richard Brant, Chester Hinkle, Raymond Whitacre and Dorothy Moreland.

The choir, under the direction of Carl Moreland, will sing "What of the Lambs?" with Miss Naomi Moreland as soloist. Mrs. Mary Alice McEugart and Mrs. Mrs. Kathryn Moreland will sing "Sleep My Baby Jesus."

The 30-day period is required in the event the owner would file an appeal of his sentence.

Getty also noted that the machines will be turned over to the Sheriff's Office, and will later be destroyed.

The machines were the property of Arthur Blank, Zihlman, who was fined $500 earlier this week by Judge Morgan C. Harris.

The raid on the "one-armed bandits" was the first in Allegany County in more than 10 years when a crackdown on the machines was conducted by authorities.

The raid at Zihlman was a result of a number of complaints concerning gambling.

Mail Volume For Holiday Picking Up

Christmas mail operations are picking up at the main Post Office here, according to Postmaster Thomas F. Conlon, although cancellations and parcel post are still running behind last year's volume.

Curiously enough, the postmaster said, improvements made during the past year permit the regular and extra employees to handle a larger volume of mail than in any previous year.

Conlon said the conveyor system which was installed last summer has proved an invaluable aid in handling mail during the holiday period, and also aided the addition of a truck mail route from Baltimore as being an important factor in permitting the employees to keep abreast of the mail volume.

The handling of mail this year has also been improved by the acquisition of another cancelling machine, the postmaster stated, explaining that it has been pressed into service daily to take care of the overflow during peak periods. This marks the first time that the local Post Office has had the use of two cancelling machines.

Cancellations yesterday totaled 133,200, bringing the nine-day handle to 512,000. For the same period in 1957, cancellations numbered 712,000, Conlon said.

By comparison, yesterday's cancellations total was 25,700 under the number recorded last December 17, and 12,000 less than was recorded on the same day of the week last year.

Increasing parcel post continues to be heavier than last year, while the outgoing matter is slightly below the 1957 volume, Conlon said.

The postmaster expressed concern that Christmas mail and parcels will be delivered late unless the volume picks up, pointing out that delivery can only be made after being processed, all of which takes time.

The Adult Choir will sing: "Carols of the Holy Night," "The Way of the Star," "The Shepherds' Christmas," "Christmas Bells," "In a Manger He Is Sleeping," "The Christmas Birthday" and "The Wondrous Story."

The program will close with the singing of "Hark the Herald Angels Sing" and benediction by the Rev. Dr. E. E. Miller, pastor.

Driver Killed In Accident

John A. Lee, 36, Pendleton, Ind., truck driver, was killed last night when he was struck by a tractor-trailer at a service station on U. S. 220 at the Bedford interchange of the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Lee was pronounced dead on arrival at Bedford County Memorial Hospital where he was taken shortly after the accident at 7:30 p. m.

Pennsylvania State Police said Lee was struck by the huge tractor-trailer which was backing into a parking lot at the Comco Service Station. They said Lee apparently was walking across the parking lot at the time.

The rig was driven by Edward Weber Bell Jr., 37, of Harrisburg, Pa., who told police he did not see Lee in the darkness of the lot and did not realize he had struck the man until the heavy vehicle had passed over the victim's body.

The tractor-trailer belonged to the Motor Freight Express of Chicago, Ill.

Police are continuing their investigation of the accident.

County Gets $82.65 From Slot Machines

Money Turned Over To Treasurer By Attorney's Office

Allegany County became $82.65 richer this morning when the State's Attorney's office opened the three slot machines found last Friday night at Blank's Store in Zihlman.

James S. Getty, state's attorney, said the money will be turned over to James Bishop, county treasurer.

Getty pointed out that according to law, Bishop must wait 30 days before he files a petition in Circuit Court for permission to deposit the money in the county treasury.

The 30-day period is required in the event the owner would file an appeal of his sentence.

Getty also noted that the machines will be turned over to the Sheriff's Office, and will later be destroyed.

The machines were the property of Arthur Blank, Zihlman, who was fined $500 earlier this week by Judge Morgan C. Harris.

The raid on the "one-armed bandits" was the first in Allegany County in more than 10 years when a crackdown on the machines was conducted by authorities.

The raid at Zihlman was a result of a number of complaints concerning gambling.

Paris Opera Officials Want To Avoid Scandal

By ROBERT AHREN
United Press International

PARIS (UPI) — Nervous Paris Opera officials were bending over backward today to avoid a new "Callas scandal" when the temperamental soprano sings at a benefit performance here Friday night.

The 35-year-old, New York-born Maria Meneghini Callas has either snubbed or been snubbed by opera companies of Chicago, San Francisco, Rome, Milan and New York.

The most recent of the much-publicized upsets involving the fiery, big-voiced diva occurred early last month when Rudolph Bing, general manager of New York City's Metropolitan Opera house, cancelled her contract in a dispute over roles.

"Let us all be grateful," Bing said at the time, "that we have had the benefit of her artistry for two seasons. The Metropolitan is nevertheless also grateful that the association is ended."

Paris Opera officials, however, hope their association may just be beginning, and they are taking elaborate measures to see that things are done the way Madame Callas would like them.

A hydrometric engineer will be placed at her disposal in the 84-year-old copper domed Paris Opera House to give her regular but let us on atmospheric humidity.

Her dressing room has been redecorated and will be double padded as a safeguard against her being troubled by noise.

Opera officials have agreed to give her a full roster of the artists, musicians and even technicians who will work during her brief appearance here.

This is the first time such a roster has been made available to a performing artist here since the liberation. It is apparently a precaution against the presence among other artists or stage hands of someone with whom Madame Callas has a feud.

Officials also have agreed that the celebrity-studded candlelight supper being given in connection with the performance will be held without candles. The candles will be replaced by soft electric light bulbs because, according to one official, "Madame Callas complained candles hurt her eyes."

Just what will be served at the supper is not yet known. But officials said they had submitted the menu to Madame Callas and that she has approved most of it.

Despite all these precautions, and despite the fact that President of the Republic Rene Coty will be among the guests, the possibility of a new demonstration of the famous Callas temper has been enough of a drawing card to make any one of the house's 2,130 seats unavailable for a month now except at scalpers' prices.

Search Ends For Apparent River Victim

QUANTICO, Va. (AP) — The search for a 56-year-old Washington carpenter whose cabin cruiser capsized in the Potomac River Monday night was called off yesterday.

Hartley (Pete) Schenck was presumed to have drowned in the chill waters.

Schenck and a companion, Hudson C. Shoaf, 53, of Washington were bringing the craft up the Potomac to Washington when it crashed into a sheet of ice and foundered. Shoaf was lifted to safety by a helicopter from Quantico Marine Base after spending two hours in the water.

Bishop Dearden Goes To Detroit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The apostolic delegation today announced the transfer of the Most Rev. John F. Dearden from the diocese of Detroit to the archdiocese of Detroit to succeed the late Edward Cardinal Mooney.

It also was announced that the Most Rev. William E. Cousins of Peoria has been named archbishop of Milwaukee.

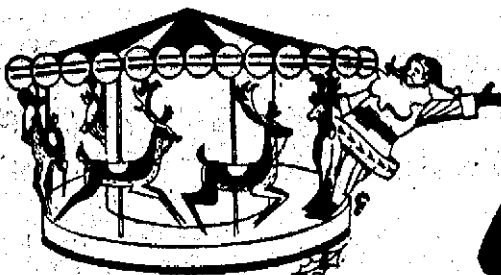

Archbishop-elect Dearden, 51, was bishop of Pittsburgh for eight years and a member of the hierarchy since 1948. Archbishop-elect Cousins, 56, was elevated to the episcopacy in 1949.

The appointments were by Pope John XXIII.

Two faculty members at Dartmouth College made the first chemical analysis of oil in 1853.

The death yesterday of W. Arnold (Doc) Gunther, veteran local basketball player, recalls the days of the old Cumberland Cases, a top-notch basketball team that met some of the nation's best road clubs of the late 1920s and early 1930s.

"Doc" was affiliated with the Cases from the time the team was organized in the fall of 1926 as successor to the Cumberland Checkers until it was disbanded in the late 1930s.

As manager of the Cases, Mr. Gunther helped build the club from a better-than-average independent quint to a classy aggregation capable of holding its own with most of the best traveling teams of the era. The world-famous Celtics were among the teams that Gunther brought here to meet his Cases.

The original Checkers team, which played in the old City League, was composed of Ernie Hartman, John Mink, Bill Keegan, Fred Coyle, Tom Mulaney, Jim Kelly and Leo Barley.

Although quiet and unassuming by nature, "Doc" bubbled over with enthusiasm when he entered the local basketball picture. Vic May and Joe Neuberger, two of LaSalle High's all-time greats, joined to the Knights of Columbus team following their graduation in 1927, were the first of many ex-schoolboy stars that "Doc" nabbed.

After that came fellows like Jack Stakem, George Stegmair, John Mullaney, Patsy Gainer, Dave Conley, Hank Lindsay and Eddie Diehl. Ex-colleagues standouts "Bobby" Cavanaugh and Johnny Long also joined the troupe.

When the Cases broke up, Mr. Gunther was among the few who conceived the idea of initiating a sportsmanship award to perpetuate the memories of members of the team's stars who passed on. Francis (Jute) McMullen and Jack Stakem were the first to be perpetuated.

The sportsmanship award, which annually honored the "Greater Cumberland" schoolboy basketball star who was outstanding off as well as on the court, continued until several years ago when a state law prohibited outside organizations from sponsoring such prizes.

Soft spoken and personable, Mr. Gunther was known as a gracious loser and a gentleman in every respect. Although not of the jovial, laughing type, he possessed a good sense of humor marked by dry wit.

"Doc" liked to host that he was the best fisherman on the South Branch and he was among those who established the Flea Club. A fun-loving group who frequented the river during the summer months, these men succeeded in establishing an organization that annually stages one of the Christmas season's biggest social affairs.

This year's Flea dance, scheduled for Friday night of next week at the K of C Home, won't be the same with "Doc" among the missing.

Sports Keg Residue

Harold Hudson, last griddle to win the "Player of the Year" award for "Greater Cumberland" schools, showed off yesterday for a two-year hitch in the Navy. The former LaSalle High fullback, who withdrew from the University of Miami (Fla.) after his freshman year despite big things being predicted for him, says he hopes to resume his gridiron career while in the service.

The stocky and speedy block-busting runner enters the Navy tipping the scales at a solid 192 pounds. A story in a Baltimore paper says that Tommy Mont, fired as Maryland's head football coach, has received some "pretty fabulous" offers to stay in college football.

Source of this statement is one of Mont's assistants. The Baltimore story also says that Tommy has received expressions of sympathy from coaching colleagues like Paul Dietzel of national champion LSU and Earle Edwards of North Carolina State.

"I wouldn't let it get you down too much if I were you," Dietzel told Mont. "Last year I was 5-5 and some people were after my scalp. Then look what happened this year."

This season Dietzel led LSU to a 10-0 record, the Sugar Bowl and was voted Coach of the Year.

Coach Johnny Meyers of Valley High reports that only the first two rows of seats on the side have been reserved for tomorrow's big basketball battle at Lonaconing with Piedmont.

With bleachers on the ends this year for the first time, there should be plenty of seats, Meyers says.

Michael Stone of Cumberland has received his numeral in Junior varsity soccer at Mercersburg Academy.

General manager Joe L. Brown of the Pittsburgh Pirates feels his club can win the National League pennant in 1969 if the

Renfro Seen As Giant Target In Sunday Playoff

Brown Star In Habit Of Making Key Touchdown

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—Ray Renfro, the flanking halfback whose rocket-like speed makes him a difficult man to defend, was expected to be a key target for passes when the Cleveland Browns meet New York in the Eastern Division title play-off game Sunday.

Renfro, a seven-year veteran in the pro ranks, is a main cog in the Browns' offense because of his ability to get behind the defenders, take the pass and go in for the big score.

Leading Team Scorer

The speedster from North Texas State is the team's leading scorer this season via the air-ways. He has scored six aerial touchdowns and most of the catches were of the key variety.

Renfro has snared 24 aerials good for 569 yards this season, and his 51-yard catch of a Milt Plum heave Sunday, a most spelled down for the Giants. The snow-covered field, however, prevented Ray from opening up and going all the way.

He was tripped up and the Browns had to settle for a field goal a few plays later. Renfro, who has never been chosen outright in an all-pro selection, bagged 21 passes in 1957 and gained 589 yards for an average of 28 yards per catch.

56,000 Tickets Sold In 36 Hours

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Giants, after enjoying an extra day's rest for their comeback victory over Cleveland, resumed practice today for Sunday's Eastern Division play-off game with the Browns at Yankee Stadium.

The Giants' spectacular sweep of a 13-0 verdict last Sunday crowned a tie for the Eastern crown and gave New York its biggest ticket rush in the club's history.

Giant officials announced Tuesday night they stopped the public sale of tickets for Sunday's National Football League game after selling more than 50,000 tickets in 36 hours.

"We have enough mail orders to use up what few tickets we have left," one harried official said, "and people are lined up down to the street waiting to buy." The club's office is on the 16th floor.

The only tickets available Sunday will be the 12,000 bleacher and 5,000 standing-room tickets that go on sale at the stadium.

Broadway oddsmakers are rating the game as a "pick-em" affair, with a bettor giving 11 to 10 odds no matter which team he backs.

If the Giants win, they will host the Baltimore Colts in the championship game. The front office has already announced a scale of ticket prices for a title encounter. Box seats will sell for $10; reserved seats, $7.50; bleacher seats, $4, and standing-room, $5.

Perkins Picked In Fight Tonight

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Eddie Perkins, 21-year-old Chicago lightweight, pits his youth and close-quarter hitting against the speed and long-range trickery of Mexican Baby Vasquez, 27, tonight at the New Capital Arena.

Their 10-rounder will be televised nationally by ABC at 10 p.m. e.s.t.

Perkins is favored at 2-1 because of his aggressiveness, stamina and ruggedness. He was impressive in his latest bout, Nov. 12, when he easily outpointed veteran Frankie Ryff at Chicago. Eddie made his TV debut in that fight.

A fair puncher, Perkins seeks his fourth knockout in 17 starts tonight. He won 12 bouts and lost 4 but never was stopped.

The more experienced Vasquez, champion of Mexico, is fast and shifty. His side-to-side maneuvers include switch-hitting, with the right foot forward. He tries to confuse an opponent into missing or leaving openings so that he can capitalize with quick flurries.

Ward Applies For Terp Job

AMES, Iowa (AP)—Bob Ward, all-America football guard at Maryland, said today he is actively seeking the head coaching job at his alma mater.

Ward, 31, was an assistant football coach at Maryland for six years before coming to Iowa State College in a similar capacity this year.

Although his name had been submitted by friends, Ward formally applied for the job by letter. The position became vacant last week when Tommy Mont's contract was not renewed.

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The Baltimore Colts, Chicago Bears and Los Angeles Rams, dominant teams in the National Football League's Western Division, landed 20 out of 31 men on the team chosen today to meet the Eastern stars in the Pro Bowl game January 11.

The West will be rich in quarterbacks, with both Johnny Unitas of the Colts and John Wade of the Rams nominated.

Other offensive standouts include fullbacks Rick Casares of the Bears and Alan Ameche of the Colts, and halfbacks Jim Aronson of the Rams, Willie Moore of the Colts and Willie Gailimore of the Bears.

For the seventh time, defensive tackle Leo Nomellini of the San Francisco 49ers was selected for the West squad.

Keyser, Moorefield Tangle In PVC; Lions Tie Up Race

Keyser High, expected to be one of the quintets fighting for the Potomac Valley Conference basketball crown this season, starts its league slate tonight by facing Moorefield on the Jackets' home boards.

Keyser has played three games to date, whipping its Alumni, 78-66, and Beal of Frostburg, 67-54, while dropping a 64-63 decision to Valley's unbeaten Knights. The Jackets have taken two of three decisions, all in the PVC, by dumping Wardsville, 52-29, and Circleville, 54-43, and losing to undefeated Franklin, 59-53.

Two other schoolboy contests are carded tonight with North Hagerstown facing city rival South Hagerstown at the Hubs' gym while Franklin is at Monterey, Va. Both the Hubs and Panthers are unbeaten in four games.

Piedmont's Lions tied Romney for the lead in the PVC last night with a 76-60 win over Petersburg on the losers' hardwoods. Both Piedmont and Romney have won three games without a loss in the circuit.

Fort Ashby put a crimp in the title ambitions of Ridgeley as the Eagles pulled out a 74-71 win in an overtime battle at Fort Ashby. In other contests, Paw Paw made its debut in the loop with a 50-47 conquest of Canon Bridge and Wardsville set down West Virginia Deaf, 68-51, as the Lions dropped their third straight.

Joe "Goose" Taylor was again the big gun for Piedmont, hooping 21 points on 10 goals and a penalty loss. Wayne Russell and Dan T. Twyman aided the attack with 15 and 13 markers. Piedmont led all the way, holding a 43-22 advantage at intermission. Ernie Nelson and Bill Reynolds had 17 and 16 counters for the Vikings who received their first loss in three PVC starts.

Scott Scores 37 Glen Pyles continued his heavy net bombardment for Fort Ashby and hooped two field goals in the extra heat to help the Eagles dump Ridgeley. Bill Scott, leading scorer in the district, poured in 37 tallies on 16 goals and five charity tosses for the Hawks.

The regulation contest wound up in a 66-66 draw. Pyles' goals and free throws by Harold Hershberger and Jim Steed gave the Eagles eight points in the extra stanza while Elwood Lambert hooped all five of Ridgeley's counters on three fouls and a field goal.

Pyles, third behind Romney's Bill Maphis and Scott in scoring average, pumped home 28 tallies for Fort Ashby while Bill Price weighed in with 21 markers.

Wardsville was in command all the way as Bob Brooks and Jim Fridley scored 17 and 14 points. Dan Hudson racked up 22 tallies for the Lions.

Paw Paw stays in the unbeaten ranks and bagged its first PVC triumph as the Pirates took a 13-point win over Canon Bridge. Kevin Edmondson had 18 points for the winners who lost Jim Sharp, Tom Malcolm and Dave

Corum Died Before Book Was Finished

By TIM MORIARTY
NEW YORK (UPI)—Death caught up with Bill Corum, one of the nation's most popular sports writers, before he could finish his autobiography.

The 63-year-old New York Journal-American columnist, who also served as president of the Churchill Downs race track and as president of the Kentucky Derby, died Tuesday night of lung cancer at St. Luke's Hospital.

"Try to keep me going so I can finish my book," Corum told his physician and long-time friend, Dr. John S. Davis Jr., only Tuesday morning.

"We tried awfully hard and so did Bill, but it was too late," Dr. Davis said. "I asked him, 'How do you feel, Bill?' when I visited him early last night. He blinked his eyes a couple of times but didn't reply. Then he died."

Corum had been in and out of the hospital since he contracted pneumonia during the World Series in October. He resumed writing his column about a month ago but felt so weak he returned to St. Luke's last week.

The round-faced, jolly "amateur horse player" never saw another typewriter.

Corum was still a student in college when he took time out to serve as an Army private in the expeditionary force that fought against Pancho Villa in Mexico in 1916. He quit school again when World War I broke out and later became the youngest major in the AEF at the age of 23.

While serving with the famed 26th (Yankee) Division in France Corum received his degree from the University before going to work for the New York Times in 1920.

Becomes Star Columnist
In 1925, Corum "jumped" to the Journal-American at the behest of the late Arthur Brisbane. He was a baseball writer during his early years with the Journal-American, then became the paper's star columnist in 1927.

When Matt Winn, the "father" of the Kentucky Derby, died in 1949, Corum was named to succeed him as president of Churchill Downs. He would take a leave of absence from the Journal-American each spring to help direct plans for the Derby.

Corum also became well known as a radio sports commentator. He served for many years as a "color" announcer at the World Series and at championship fights.

Among Corum's survivors are his mother, a brother, Clayton, and a son, Robert. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Indians Continue Unbeaten, 64-25

Mt. Savage continued its unbeaten ways last night as the Indians, sparked by Jack Lowery's 26 points, raced to a 64-25 victory over Hancock on the Mt. Savage hardwoods. Hancock was limited to nine goals while "Savage" dropped in 28 fielders and eight of 16 free throws. Rich Lybarger was runner-up to Lowery with 15 points.

Valley Quint Keeps Rolling, Wins Fourth

With veteran guard George Lauder getting 12 of his 22 points in the second quarter, Valley High's unbeaten cagers cleared the boards for their return clash tomorrow night against Piedmont in Detmold by whipping Southern High, 59-43, last night on the Oakland court.

The Detmolders, who have won four times, including a 49-46 win over Piedmont, were held to an 8-8 draw at the end of the first heat by the Highlanders but, led by Lauder, spurred in the second period to hold a 31-21 margin at half. The lead shot to 47-27, going into the final chapter.

The one-two punch of Lauder and center "Hank" Winner again featured the Valley attack with "Tippy" Motis also aiding in the cause. Lauder got his total on nine buckets and four of four free throws. Winner caged a dozen tallies and Metis finished with 11.

Terry Colaw was high man for Southern with 12 tallies on four goals and four penalty pitches. Southern now has spill in four starts.

Terps, Navy Play Tonight

Beaten in three of their first four games by a total of eight points, the University of Maryland Terps will attempt to get back on the winning track tonight at College Park when they entertain one of their closest rivals, the Middies from the U. S. Naval Academy.

The Terps lost a heartbreaker to defending national Kentucky in Lexington Monday, bowing 58-56 in overtime after apparently having the game won in the regulation time.

"Bud" Millikan's team started off by dropping a 55-53 decision to North Carolina State, then followed with a 66-62 setback to Northwestern, picked to win the Big Ten championship, at Evanston, Ill. The Terps' only win came last week when they whipped Virginia, 63 to 56.

Navy holds a big advantage over Maryland in the all-time series, 21 victories to 12, but the Terps took both games last season by 88-58 and 64-51 scores.

Horine Selected Pan-Am Tryouts

John Horine, outstanding senior inside, left forward of Frostburg State Teachers College, has qualified for the final tryouts of the United States soccer team that will compete in the Pan-American Games at Chicago next year.

Coach Ken Babcock of Frostburg was notified of Horine's selection with the Bobcat booter being one of 16 chosen from the 55 candidates who worked out in the eastern tryouts at Brooklyn College, N. Y., earlier this month.

Horine, who is from Middletown, will vie with amateurs and members of the Armed Forces in the next tests set for March 20 and 21 at either Kansas City or St. Louis, Mo. He scored eight of the 12 goals credited to Frostburg State the past season.

MOUNTAINEER WINS FOURTH CAGE GAME

Mountaineer High kept its record clean last night by whipping Harman High, 67-57, on the losers' court. The victory was the fourth for Mountaineer.

Jim Nesbitt led the winners with 19 points while Robert Roy showed in 15 for Harman which suffered its first setback in three attempts.

Long's Bucket Ends LaSalle Spin, 68-66

LaSalle High's hoopsters, who couldn't buy a field goal in the second half while losing, 54-42, to Port Hill Monday, traded bucket for bucket with Beall last night in Frostburg and a last-second shot by freshman Mike Long gave the Explorers a 68-66 win over the Mounties.

Long's bucket, his sixth of the evening, came with only five seconds remaining. The Mounties, with the score deadlocked, 66-66, had just missed three shots when Mickey Scaletta hauled down a rebound, tossed to Carroll Will and he flipped the ball to Long who connected on a long set shot for the winning tallies.

Beall, striving for its first triumph after a pair of setbacks, had held the upper hand, 16-12, in the first quarter and by a point, 32-31, at intermission. LaSalle shot on top, 53-47, going into the last period.

The Explorers, who cracked a three-game tallspin, now have won two and lost three for the season. They take on the surprising Mt. Savage Indians, who are unbeaten in four tries, Friday night on the SS. Peter and Paul boards.

Jim Terrent, who fouled out midway through the fourth quarter, hooped 19 points for the Explorers to pace the winners. Scaletta continued his hot hand by caging 18 tallies and Long, last year's scoring champion for St. Mary's in the Catholic Youth League, wound up with 13 counters.

Moore Voted Year's Top Fighter By Mitt Scribes

NEW YORK (UPI)—Light heavyweight champion Archie Moore, the ring's marvellous Meluselah, was named "Fighter of the Year" today by the Boxing Writers Association.

The BWA unanimously voted him the annual Edward J. Neil Award for outstanding contributions to the sport during 1953. His greatest contribution was last week's heroically dramatic defense against Canadian Yvon Durelle at Montreal.

When informed of his selection, Archie declared, "Oh, great! All my life I've been fighting toward this, it's the richest reward of my career."

The writers also voted the James J. Walker Memorial

Hyndman Wins As 'Subs' Star

The subs took over last night after three regulars had made their exit on fouls to pace Hyndman High's quint to a 58-56 victory over Meyersdale on the Hornets' court.

George Burns Pleases In Live TV Appearance

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI) — George Burns, set adrift this season in a graceful and graceful filmed situation comedy, shifted format on NBC-TV Tuesday night and went live.

It was a useful shift, giving Burns more to do than to sit in a chair and be the subject of a half-hour.

Burns seized on a variety of tasks in an effort to push the show along. He danced, sang, delivered a stand-up routine and participated in several skits that were laced loosely through the show. It was all moderately pleasant and he was assisted in these proceedings by his cigar, his son, Ronnie, the dancing Dumbells and Eddie Fisher.

Apocryphal of nothing, I should note somewhere that Fisher smoked a series of cigarettes all through the Burns show in deference, I suppose, to Fisher's own cigarette sponsor. However, since Burns was gracious enough to give up his cigar and smoke cigarettes last week on Fisher's show, it seemed to me the least Fisher could have done was to smoke soap in deference to Burns' sponsor. Or at least have come in a latter.

Whether a live variety format is the way out for Burns depends upon the strength of his material and the sturdiness of his support in the field. There are reports that forces are at work trying to woo Grace Allen back to the fold. I hope so. I'd hate to have to watch Eddie Fisher blowing smoke on two NBC-TV shows a week.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Not wishing to reveal my identity, let's just say I am a man whose business takes me into the homes of my clients. While on a business call to present the bill a very attractive woman practically "threw her self" at me. Being human, "caught" her. When I presented my bill for what she owed me (labor and materials) she tore it into little pieces. It amounted to $400. I took it to my lawyer and he advised me to forget the bill, the woman, and the incident. Should I? "HOMO SAPIEN?"

DEAR ABBY: Take your lawyer's advice. You're lucky she didn't add an amusement tax.

DEAR ABBY: Please print this for "LUCILLE," the woman who is taking away our Daddy.

"Yes, Lucille, what about us kids? We were happy before you came along. Why don't you find your own man instead of our Mommy's man? Don't you know about the Ten Commandments? I go to Sunday School and learn about Jesus and Mommy says when it rains Jesus is crying because someone was bad. It rained here all day Saturday. Jesus was crying because you were bad and took our Daddy away. Please go away and leave our Daddy alone. Please put this in your paper, Miss Abby, and I wish you a Merry Christmas."

THIRD-GRADER

DEAR ABBY: My husband's second cousin, age 65, is going to marry a man, age 67, in January. Her husband and his wife passed away last summer. She is going to be married in a white dress and wedding veil. She asked my husband to give her away. I refuse to attend the wedding and see them make fools of themselves. Am I wrong? Shouldn't the preacher talk them into having a quiet wedding?

DEAR DISGUSTED: The preacher will probably prevail upon them to dispense with the gown and veil type wedding. If they insist, and your husband "gives the bride away," I don't believe he'll be conspicuous by your absence.

DEAR ABBY: Maybe I'm wrong, but with my family the children seem to run everything. At an adult party, the children are the center of attraction. When I visit any one of my sisters or brothers, their children have to be right in the middle of everything we say or do. I have one boy, 4 years old. When anyone comes to see me, he says "hello" and then goes into his bedroom or outside to play. Am I right? Or do children belong in their mother's laps and in every adult conversation until they reach the age of 16?

DEAR ROSE: If you are wrong, then that makes two of us.

DEAR ABBY: We are two young wives whose husbands work for the same company and they both tell us the same tale. They get off work at 4:30 P. M. standing preferred and common shares in each company must appear. They say they are playing PING-PONG. Don't you think this is a very childish game for two grown men to be playing?

PING PONG WIDOWS

DEAR "WIDOWS": Don't complain. There are worse games.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries)—The going may not be entirely easy now but, by using your fine intelligence and not giving in to irritability, you can have satisfactory results in your labors. Be patient. Don't force issues.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus)—Benefits possible if you tackle tasks quickly and refuse to worry or doubt. Use that good judgment of yours and even the most difficult of tasks will be easier of accomplishment.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini)—Friendly planetary influences. Take advantage of all opportunities—make some new ones for yourself by advancing your ideas and suggestions.

JUNE 22 to JULY 21 (Cancer)—Allocations are good now; plan wisely just how and where to begin. Allocate duties so as to take care of the urgent, important ones first, then others will be less difficult to handle. Don't be distracted by trifles.

JULY 22 to AUGUST 21 (Leo)—Patient care with essential details will help day's results and pile up more credits than you expect. Familiar matters, routine work, encouraged. Don't fret if you have to follow instructions you don't like. Do your best.

AUGUST 22 to SEPTEMBER 21 (Virgo)—Much depends upon the demands of your position and how you handle irritating situations. There may be some tricky spots, but don't let anything get you "down." You can afford to smile and gain the whip.

SEPTEMBER 22 to OCTOBER 21 (Libra)—You could be mistaken about some situations, so ask for advice if you need it. There are good opportunities although you may have to work a bit harder to make the most of them. You can do so, however.

OCTOBER 22 to NOVEMBER 21 (Scorpio)—Application, thoroughness are this day's needs, and you can supply them all. Show your loyalty, your friendliness.

NOVEMBER 22 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius)—It must be an extra special YOU who finishes his program with top rating during this challenging period. Start right, with a well-planned schedule, then follow through! You can attain it.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 21 (Capricorn)—Some matters may seem uncertain, then again you may not feel up to par. However, you have innate stability and excellent know-how, so handle things to the best of your ability and you will reap fine returns.

JANUARY 22 to FEBRUARY 21 (Aquarius)—"Where there's a will, there's a way" should be your slogan all day. First, let your program, then quickly get to it and don't dally with unessential. Action, determination needed.

FEBRUARY 22 to MARCH 21 (Pisces)—Team your assets, talents and initiative and you need not fear possible obstacles. Handle urgent tasks first, and be careful about details. Keep an eye open to new opportunities.

YOU BORN TODAY are self-reliant, buoyant, progressive, usually clever, acquisitive; may at times be blunt but this is only because you are so frank and honest. Try to be more diplomatic. And never lose your integrity. You can accomplish in almost any field you choose and for which you have talent, training, could succeed remarkably well at finance, in "big business." ## Teachers' Spokesman Sees $400 Salary Hike

BALTIMORE (AP)—The chief spokesman for the Maryland State Teachers' Assn. says he believes public school teachers will get a $400 raise from the next Legislature.

Milton C. Raver, executive secretary of the association, says the group is not interested in a compromise figure of the $400 which he would match the increase they got during his campaign he favored the increase and believed it could be accomplished within present tax revenue sources.

The 1958 raise is being paid for through a three-cent a pack tax on cigarettes.

Raver also said that 70 per cent of the incoming Legislature approves, directly or indirectly, the higher pay scale.

HAVANA (UPI) — The first of three big British-made turboprops which Cubana Airlines plans to use in its Transatlantic service is scheduled to reach here today.

Small Boat Law Stalled By Committee

BALTIMORE (AP)—A proposal to require the registration of small boats in Maryland was stalled today in a Legislative Council subcommittee.

The unit, headed by Sen. Louis N. Phipps (D-Anne Arundel), has decided to sound out boat owners on the idea before asking the General Assembly to approve any registration plan.

Instead, a report prepared for the General Assembly when it convenes Jan. 7 recommended more rigid enforcement of a present State law against reckless operation of boats. It also calls for placing enforcement of the law into the hands of the Tidewater Fisheries Commission.

The Federal Boating Act of 1958 requires that all boats not under Coast Guard jurisdiction be registered and numbered. Backers of the federal law envisioned its administration under a series of State laws conforming to the federal statute.

COPE Units Plans Meeting Tonight

The Committee on Political Education of the Western Maryland Central Labor Council, AFL-CIO, will meet today at 7:30 p. m. in the Allegany Labor Temple.

Joseph V. Burke, area COPE director, will preside at the session, when plans for a continuing program will be made.

In the past, officials said, COPE was generally inactive at the local level between major elections.

Plans call for a constant program by keeping in touch with legislation between election campaigns.

Native Of Ohio

A native of Wooster, Ohio, he and his wife now live in Chicago. I talked with him while he was in New York for a sales meeting. He gets so self-sold on the product at hand that, discussing a new crop of cleaners, he looked at me and said: "They're so good, I often get to the point where I can't exaggerate anymore."

But pitchman McCarthy rather misses a fading bit of Americana—the door to door salesman.
